A NEW ERA IN LAW

The University of Queensland's most prominent landmark is poised to begin an exciting new chapter in the building's history.

Thanks to philanthropic donations to the TC Beirne School of Law Building Fund, The Forgan Smith building, which houses the TC Beirne School of Law, is undergoing dramatic refurbishment that, from 2017, will provide students with a more connected, interactive experience and ensure they continue to receive world-class education.

The redevelopment has been carefully designed to support a major refocusing of the school and provide a dynamic and inspiring environment for students and teachers. The design allows for currently under-utilised space to be redesigned into areas conducive to collaborative work. It will incorporate mobile technology while preserving the historic sandstone façade.

The cost of the project is being met by a combination of university capital works funding and philanthropic donations.

TRIBUTE TO LAURA GUTTUSO

DOCTORAL STUDENT – LAWYER AND SCHOLAR – FRIEND
1974 - 2016

The TC Beirne School of Law, its staff and students alike, mourn the unexpected and premature passing of Laura Guttuso, one of our most outstanding PhD students and members of the TCB family.

For many who worked closely with Laura, it has been hard to accept this news. How is it that only a few short weeks ago we shared over morning tea her obvious excitement as she embarked upon another global adventure in anti-competition law to further her doctoral research? As to be expected with Laura, this involved an epic itinerary involving prestigious international fellowships and travel awards, first at the American Bar Association in Washington DC, and then onto London to deliver conference papers, seminars and participate in workshops. Laura tragically passed shortly after her arrival in the United States following medical complications that placed her on life support for several weeks. News of her sudden loss, robbing us of Laura's boundless optimism and passion for everything she did, is deeply felt by her many friends and colleagues in the School.

Laura is gone, but the memory of her spirit of intellectual curiosity, modesty and generosity toward others will be honoured today, and will continue to be honoured at future awards and events, that will seek to express how highly Laura was valued in our community.

Vale Laura
