

LOVE FOR SALE & LABOUR FOR HIRE

The fight against human trafficking has been a war against prostitution for much of the 20th century and continues today.

Media coverage of the issue in Australia has also been preoccupied with stories about sex slaves and the lurid nature of the prostitution industry.

On the other hand, trafficking in children through bogus adoption schemes and the vulnerability of unskilled foreign workers to exploitation are often overlooked.

In this presentation, UQ's Human Trafficking Working Group will explore and discuss some of the challenges of combating human trafficking in Australia.

MONDAY

May 24, 2010

2:00-4:00pm

Building 14 (Sir Llew Edwards)
Terrace Room, top floor

RSVP by May 20, 2010
events@bel.uq.edu.au

A UQ DIVERSITY WEEK EVENT

THE UNIVERSITY OF QUEENSLAND
AUSTRALIA